Closing the Gap

A health program for Aboriginal & Torres Strait Islander people

Closing the Gap is a program that helps Aboriginal & Torres Strait Islander people in three ways:

1. Better healthcare
2. Access to cheaper medicines
3. Dedicated care coordinators and support workers

Better Healthcare

To find out how you can access better health care, take the following steps:

1. Contact your doctor - ask if they are participating in the Aboriginal Health Program
2. Identify yourself as Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander
3. Get a yearly health check with your Doctor
4. If you need to, use the subsidised Allied Health Services* that may be available to you (see below)

If you suffer from a Chronic Disease, you may be entitled to up to 10 subsidised* referrals to an Allied Health Provider.

This includes:

- Audiologist
- Speech Pathologist
- Chiropractor
- Dietitian
- Diabetes Educator
- Mental Health
- Physiologists
- Osteopath
- Occupational Therapist
- Aboriginal Worker
- Podiatrist
- Physiotherapist

*Upfront payment may apply. Check when making your appointment. You can get rebates back through Medicare. Payment options can be considered with your Care Coordinator.

Cheaper or free medicines

If you have a chronic disease or are at risk of developing one you can get your medications cheaper or FREE.

This could mean:

- Concession holders would no longer pay for their prescriptions, they would now get medicines FREE.
- If you work, you would now get your prescriptions for concession rates.
- Cover the whole family - get a yearly health check for all family members. Your doctor will let you know if you qualify to save money on medicines.

To access these services, contact the Closing the Gap team at NCNS on 4706 0299 or visit: www.nepeancommunity.org.au

Care Coordinators

The Care Coordination & Supplementary Services program supports Aboriginal & Torres Strait Islander people with chronic disease to access specialist, GP and allied health services.

To be eligible for this program you must:

- Have one of the following:
 1. Heart disease
 2. Kidney disease
 3. Respiratory disease
 4. Diabetes
 5. Cancer
- Be recommended by your GP and have a current GP management plan (dated and signed).

Funds are available to provide access to medical specialists and allied health services as recommended in your GP management plan.

Outreach Workers

NCNS offers male and female Aboriginal Outreach Workers in the Blue Mountains, Hawkesbury and Penrith who can:

- Help you make medical appointments and assist with any health-related paperwork
- Explain what a health check is and why it is important
- Attend medical appointments with you if you need some support
- Help you register for a Medicare card if you don't have one
- Inform you of transport options available in the local area
- Help you find where to get prescriptions filled
- Let you know about local programs or services that may be useful for you

The Aboriginal Outreach Worker cannot provide medical advice or treatment, but can link you up with services or people that can help you.
